COBUILD DICTIONARIES

The Learner's dictionary transformed!

Level: beginner to advanced

More than simple reference books, the Collins COBUILD dictionaries, created with National Geographic Learning, are pedagogically rich, engaging, full-color language learning tools. While any good learner's dictionary helps a learner understand the meaning of a word, COBUILD dictionaries do more, by showing learners how to use that word correctly and appropriately.

All Collins COBUILD dictionaries are designed to help learners understand and use vocabulary, collocations, phrases, expressions, and patterns effectively and accurately in their daily lives. Support for the learner includes:

- ▶ Full sentence definitions to show learners how that word is used correctly in context
- ▶ Supporting example sentences to give more language support to the learner
- ▶ Vocabulary builders, which show learners how to use high frequency words correctly, including: Word Web, Picture Dictionary, Word Partnership, Thesaurus, Word World, and more

ngl.cengage.com/dictionaries

Word Web wave

As wind blows across water, it creates waves. It does this by transferring energy to the water. If the waves encounter an object, they bounce off it. Light also travels in waves and behaves the same way. We are able to see an object only if light waves bounce off it. Light waves can be categorized by their frequency. Wave frequency is usually the measure of the number of waves per second. Radio waves and microwaves are examples of low-frequency light waves. Visible light consists of medium-frequency light waves. Ultraviolet radiation and X-rays are high-frequency light waves.

- ▶ Word Webs present related vocabulary in the context of short, thematic reading

Picture Dictionary color

- ▶ Picture Dictionary entries present thematic vocabulary and ideas in a visual way

Word Partnership Use license with:

- suspended license, valid license
- driver's license, license fees, hunting license, liquor license, marriage license, pilot's license, software license
- get, obtain a license, renew a license, revoke a license

- ▶ Word Partnership sections highlight common collocations and word patterns, which help learners to develop fluency

Thesaurus talk Also look up:

- chat, discuss, gossip, say, share, speak, tell; (ant.) listen
- argument, conversation, dialogue, discussion, interview, negotiation, (ant.) silence
- communication, lingo
- chatter, chit-chat, conversation, gossip, rumor

- ▶ Thesaurus helps learners to understand and use common synonyms and antonyms

Word Link cardio + heart : cardiology, cardiovascular, electrocardiogram

- ▶ Word Links teach prefixes, suffixes, and word roots for increased language awareness

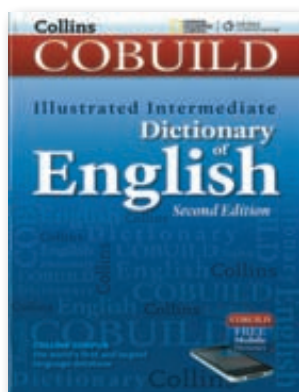

“These dictionaries should be in every classroom in the country. Then the task of looking up word meanings would not be so odious, frustrating, and nonproductive... The entries in COBUILD really communicate a word's meaning.”

Margaret McKeown,
University of Pittsburgh
